NATALIE IN EXILE.

SERVIA'S DETHRONED QUEEN BIDS FARE-

Natalle who was rescued by the students yes-terday from the custody of the prefect who had been ordered to expel her from Servia was still effectually protected this morning by an organized body composed of students and citizens. At II o'clock last night a force of gendarmes attacked the cordon of stugendarmes were finally repulsed amidst the eers of the students and citizens. Belgrade was in a fever but this morning, after a consultation of the Ministers and Regents, it was decided, come what may, to expel Natalle from Servia and instructions to that effect were given to the instructions to that effect were given to the police. Consequently during the morning a strong force of gendarmes made a fresh attack upon the Queen's palace and succeeded in breaking through the cordon of citizens who were guarding Natalie. After a sharp fight with the Queen's defenders the gendarmes succeeded in forcing their way through the cordon and in entering the palace. The gendarmes then forced their way into Natalie's bedroom and summoned her to arise as she must instantly leave Servian territory. The Queen calmly replied that she would yield to force and requested the students who had so gallantly defended her and who were even then prepared to lay down their lives for her, to make no further resistance so as to prevent any the palace entrance, and was hastly driven to the railroad station, followed by the cheers of the students and citizens of Belgrade, whose enthusiasm had to be kept within whose enthusiasm had to be kept within bounds by the display of an overwhelming force of troops, who lined the entire route to the railroad station. At this station a special train was in waiting, and the Queen was immediately conveyed on board. No sooner was the Queen and her personal baggage on board than the train left the depot for the Hungarian frontier, and Natalie of Servia, calm, pale, but evidently suffering from intense emotion, left Belgrade, the scene of so many of her troubles and triumphs.

There is no denying that the popularity of the exiled Queen has been greatly increased by the recent action of the authorities, and on the other hand there is no doubt that the popularity of the Minist ry has decreased in proportion to the increase of the Queen's popularity. The populace is especially enraged against the Minister of War, Col. Miletics, who is understood to have been the most active of the Ministers in insisting that Natalies should be exiled. In fact, the popular leeling against the Minister of War is so great that it is probable that he will be compelled to tender his resignation. During the fight, which took place last night between the gendarmes who attacked the body of students and citizens defending the Queen's Palace, one man was killed and fifty were more or less severely wounded.

IMPORTANT EVENTS MAY FOLLOW.
VIENNA, May 19.—It is stated here that exQueen Natalie of Servia is en route to the Palace of Sinal at Bucharest, the capital of Roumania, a fact which gives rise to the rumor that important political events may follow her expulsion from Servia.

NARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED IN PORT-AU-PRINCE

and Foreign Affairs in Hippolyte's Cabinet.
Every one in any way interested in Haytian commerce eagerly discussed the new phase affairs had assumed in Portau-Prince. The exact date on which martial law was proclaimed in the Haytian capital was not given in the letters. For months, though, it was said, the supporters of Legitime had been actively engaged in stirring up a feeling against the present administration. So far as known the work of agitators was confined to Port-an-Prince, where Legitime's influence has always been strongest. The deposed President, who is now sojourning in Jamaica, has it is said, been regularly posted on the work of his secret emissaries. President Hippolyte, however, has not been napping. He will probably nip the threatened uprising in the bud and at the same time, if possible, bring the guilty ones to justice. Who Legitime's agents are is not even hinted at. In other parts of Hayti everything is peaceful and commerce thrives. The result is that Hayti's finances are steadily improving.

So far as the ceding of Mole St. Nicholas to the United States for a coaling station is concerned, it was said to be as far from realization as ever.

KAISEE'S DEBAUCH AT BONN—BERLIN TOPICS.

BERLIN, May 19.—Bismarck's old suggestion that German labor agitations might be checked by the introduction of Chinese labor seems prophetic in the light of events now attracting attention in the labor world. Already many natives have been displaced by Chinese, especially at Hamburg. A Mecklenberger newspaper regularly advertises contracts for Chinese labor, the prevailing term of the agreement being ten years and a cash payment of 200 marks being made in advance. The newspapers are taking the question up and expressing the hope that the Government will interfere to prevent what bids fair to be a system of virtual coolie slavery.

ment will interfere to prevent what bids fair to be a system of virtual coolle slavery.

ON A MIDNIGHT CAROUSAL.

A story has leaked out in Berlin to the effect that Prince Adolph of Schamberg-Lippe had a narrow escape from being shot during the visit of the Kaiser to Bonn. It appears that the Kaiser and Prince Adolph, after leaving the students' debauch about midnight went to alarm the garrison by ordering them to turn out from their sleep ready for action. The Kaiser and Prince were only attended by an aide camp, Col. De Lippe. The Prince being under the influence of heavy potations, did not mind the challenge of the sentinel at the gate, and was pressing forward when the man raised his rifle and was about to fire, and would have fired but for Col. De Lippe, who cried out the rank of the visitors. Thereupon the sentinel presented arms. Instead of approving the man's vigilance the Kaiser ordered him under arrest. He was discharged from custody the following morning, but insisted on a hearing and vindication, which could not be denied him. This brought out the facts of the case, which would otherwise have remained quiet. As Adolph is himself an officer of the army his conduct is severely commented upon.

STRANGE SCENE IN A RAILWAY CAR.

A remarkable scene occurred in a thirdclass carriage of an elevated railway train in this city yesterday. The occupants of the carriage were a lady and gentleman and a workingman. Suddenly the gentleman kneeled before the workingman, announced himself as the Emperor of Mexico incognito, declared that he had taken a great fancy to his fellow passenger and begged him to accept a purse which he took from his pocket.
As soon as an opportunity offered the lady informed the police of what she had witmessed. The conor of the purse was examined by the authorities and it was learned that he was a master joiner named Max Hodenbarth, who is frequently seized with a crazy impulse to offer his purse to workingmen, but seems fairly sane in all other respects. The recipient of the money in this instance readily gave up the treasure trove.

gave up the treasure trove.

Mrs. Phelps, the wife of the American Minister to Germany, Mr. William Walter Phelps, to-day sailed from Bremen for New York on the steamer Lahn of the North German Lloyd Line. The Minister's daughter, Miss Phelps, will, in company with her aunt, Mrs. Boardman, and the Misses Boardman, soon start on a trip to Norway.

GENERAL FOREIGN.

St. Petersburg, May 19.—The Russian Government is considering the question of suing the Rothschilds, Bischroder and other financiers interested in the proposed Rassian loan for breach of contract. The suit will be instituted in Berlin if at all. The Rothschilds are firmly bound to the Russian Government to handle the loan, the contract having been signed twenty-six days ago between Baron De Rothschild and Vichegradsky, the Russian finance Minister. The Rothschilds have so far claimed that it is inexpedient to fical the loan at the present time.

SLAVE TRADE IN MOROCCO.

CAIRO, May 19.—Tangier advices state that Sir, Charles Eaun Smith, the new British Minister to Morocco, has begun a crusade for the abolition of slavery, which flourishes in that empire, the slaves being brought from Timbactoo and other important points to be sold in the Moorish cities. The traffic this year is ahead in point of numbers that of 1890, thousands of boys having been brought in caravans from the interior. The children are offered for sale in Fesse, Magdon and in other places. The children, especially the boys, are treated with terrible crueity.

testimony of Dr. Wienert. To the surprise of everyone, he produced the skull of the deceased and exhibited it before the jury showing the fractures caused by the cane stroke. He testified that death did not result from the fracture, nor from concussion of the brain, but that it resulted from morphine poison. This is regarded as very damaging to Mrs. Sheedy, the defendant, and in favor of the negro who assaulted Sheedy.

The dockmen Handon Dock in this city. The dockmen proceeded to haul the bag out of the water, and after landing it they saw that upon its outside were painted, evidently by a sailor, the British and Norwegian ensigns crossed. Beneath these emblems were the initials "T. A. M. Girvin" roughly painted. The dockers opened the bag and found the body of a boy apparently not more than 15 years of age. Further investigation showed that the boy's throat had been cut from ear to ear, and that his legs had been removed from below the knees, evidently in order to enable the man who placed the body in the bag to be able to pack therein. Inside the bag were also found a new knife and a saw with portions of the flesh still hanging to them, showing that they had both been used in killing and dishembering the lad.

Beyond the points noted there was no clue to the murderer.

M." or for some person who may know him or his bag. All missing apprentices and absent ordinary seamen are also being rounded up by the local authorities.

The police and medical examination show that the body was that of a boy who had only been quite recently killed. In fact, the crime may have been committed last night.

THREE OF THE SIX COMBATANTS RECEIVE FATAL WOUNDS.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 19.—Monday after KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 19.—Monday afternoon last a most desperate fight occurred a near Stackhouse, in Madison Co., N. C., between six young men. The fight came up about a girl, but full particulars are not as yet known. A young man by the name of Shelton was in love with a buxom lass. A fellow by the name of Stanley was also in love with this voluptuous belle of the mountains. Yesterday afternoon two Stanley brothers and another, whose name was not learned, met Shelton and without many words opened fire on him. Two cousins of Shelton went to his aid and the battle began. Pistols, shot guns and razors were used. When the smoke of battle had cleared away it was found that Shelton was shot through the body twice and would die, one of the Stanleys had a hole through his body also and his death is expected every minute. One of the Shelton brothers received two razor cuts, each to the hollow and each deemed fatal. News of the fight reached here to-day. No arrests have yet been made though the officers are in pursuit of those who were able to fie and who had done so.

WALLA WALLA LYNCHING.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 19.—The Court of Inquiry ordered by the War Department to investigate the lynching of A. J. Hunt by the soldiers of Fort Walla Walla April 24, conpartment of Columbia. The instructions are to ascertain who did the lynching, give opinion as to who were responsible and make recommendations for further action. Sheriff McFarian of Walla Walla County testified that he, in company with the Prosecuting Attorney, called on Col. Compton, Commandant at Fort Walla Walla, on the evening of the lynching and requested him to call the check rolis early in the evening. Col. Compton repiled that under the rolling of the War Department he could not call the rolls any earlier. The Sheriff then related how on the night before the lynching he was stopped on the reservation by fifty soldiers while he was conveying Hunt to the hospital where the dying statement of Private Miller was taken. Late in the night before the lynching lorty soldiers visited the jail and told the Sheriff they wanted Hunt. The Sheriff said, after endeavoring to get the Colonel to call the check rolls before il o'clock, he returned to the city and in less than an hour the soldiers had broken open the door and shot Hunt to death. The court will probably be in session the en tire week.

LINCHBUEG, Va., May 19.—A remarkable case of false presecution has just been made public. A short time ago Dr. G. M. Wickliffe, a prominent physician of Campbell County, Va., was arrested on a charge of criminally assaulting a patient named Mrs. Mand Childress. He was held at his examination in bond to await the investigation of the Grand-jury. Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Childress, whose testimony alone caused the holding of Dr. Wickliffe, signed affidavits setting forth that the charge was entirely untrue. They retracted every accusation and on the strength of these statements the charge against Dr. Wickliffe was dismissed.

TRIAL OF HARLET M'COY.

GREELEY, Colo., May 18.—The trial of Harley McCoy, charged with the murder of Police Inspector Charles A. Hawley, began yesterday, and promises to last some time. The case was brought here from Denver on a venue. The killing occurred four months ago during the riotous scene attending the effort to overthrow Speaker Hanna of the lower branch of the General Assembly.

TRAILED BY BLOODHOUNDS.

SAC AND FOX AGENCY, Q. T., May 19.—Much excitement prevails in this vicinity on account of the supposed presence in this section of the famous Dalton brothers, for whom there are rewards aggregating $11,000 outstanding. A posse of deputy United States marshals is here, also a detachment from Troop G, Fifth Cavalry. The pursuing party has a pack of bloodhounds and is confident of taking the outlaws alive.

LAUGHING HIMSELF TO DEATH.

The Mirth of a German Whose Farm Is Crossed by a Rathroad Track.

Philadelphia, Pa., May B.—Joe Dohrlinger of Wrightstone, Bucks County, is literally laughing himself to death over the New Hope extension of the Reading Railroad, which runs by his farm. He weighed 175 pounds three months ago. The first train passed his farm on the lat. oil Min 1. Dohrlinger has laughed so much since then that he now weighs only 110 pounds. The doctors and Dohrlinger's friends are awaiting the result with mingled feeelings of alarm and curiosity.

Dohrlinger is about 85 years old. He is a native of Germany. When the New Hope extension went into operation, with a station at Walton, about half simile from his farm, his property bearn to stimurease in value at once and he begam to grin. All his talk was of the improved value which the extension would give his land, and how his posterity would the land, and how his grew as the time went on, and he did nothing but sit on his porch and wait for the trains to go by. His keen ears detected the whistle in the distance, and this was so gratifying to him that he would burst out into uncontrollable laughter. After a train had passed he him that he would burst out into uncontrollable laughter. After a train had passed he would inspect the track, laughing quietly to himself, and return to his house chuckling to await the coming of the next. He knows the time-table by heart and can tell to a minute when a train should be due "off" his farm. He allowed every thing to go to pieces on the farm. His wife hopes that the novelty of the thing may wear off and that he will regain his normal state. He does not laugh now quite so much as he did, but his interest in and care of the road is undiminished. Monday he walked eighteen miles to testify for the railroad company in a case of trespass on the track.

He Punished Those Opposed to His Administration.

New York, May 19.—The case of the Etata has almost a parallel in the City of Mexico saffair. In 1886, the steamer City of Mexico sailed from the port of New York with a dozen men as passengers. Among them were Emilio Delgardo and Manuel Moore, both known to be partisans of Don Marco Aurelio Ioto, ex-President of Honduras, in whose favor a movement was on foot in that country. The steamer was ostensibly on a trading voyage, but information was given that she was to meet the Norwegian steamer Fram at Corn Island, and take up arms and men. Thence she was to go on a hostile expedition against Truxillio, a seaport on the Caribbean coast of Honduras. A lot of "Fourth Ward doys" had sailed for Turks Island on the steamship San Domingo where the Fram was to take them on board to convey them to Corn Island. Corn Island is off the coast of Nicaragua and belongs to that republic.

Among the adventurers who sailed on the San Domingo was a brother of Steve Brodie, the bridge jumper. As soon as his brother had sailed away, Brodie, who by the way had engaged most of the men, went over to newspaper row and hawked about his information. A newspaper paid him ision for the news. The Consul of Honduras begged the United States Government to send a manof-war after the City of Mexico.

The Galena, commanded by Capt. Colby M. Chester, was then at Key West, was telegraphed to go in pursuit of the City of Mexico. She came up with her in the harbor of Corn Island, a neutral port, where she was waiting for the Fram. Capt. Chester selzed the City of Mexico and placed Lieut. W. P. Elliott and a prize crew on board. This took place in the harbor of Corn Island. Gen. Delgardo, Col. Moore and their companions were placed under arrest, and Lieut. Elliott brought the vessel to Key West. There proceedings were brought against the steamer and she was confiscated. Delgardo and Moore were held in bail for violation of the neutrality laws and sent to New York for trial. They forfeited their bail and

His "Widow" to Star in the Drama of His Life Story.

New York, May 19.—Following the dramatic developments in the mysterious case of Robert Ray Hamilton comes the announcement that his alleged widow Eva is about to make her debut in the role of an actress. Coupled with this announcement comes the one even more surprising that the piay in which she is to appear will set forth the dramatic life story of the unfortunate man, who is supposed to have met his death among the tangle weeds at the bottom of Snake River. Again the skeleton which has disturbed the serenity of one of the most historic families in this country, is to be dragged forth and exposed to public view. It is promised that the stage portrayal will bring to light new and hitherto unsuspected features in this remarkable case. Eva will appear in a conspicuous role.

It in jured firemen were taken to another part of the basement, where their wounds were dressed. All of the seven who entered the place were very painfully injured. Capt. Kenney, who was nearest the barrel when it exploded, was the most badly hurt. His face was blistered and both hands and arms were gashed in several places. The force of the shock had injured him also and he was removed to the hospital. The other firemen, after their wounds had been dressed, returned to the engine-house. The damage to the building was slight.

CHANDLER AND RAUM. THE WAR BETWEEN THE FACTIONS IN THE IN-

TORONTO, Ontario, May 19.—The May bulletin of the Bureau of Industries gives a cheering forecast of the yield of fruits and grains. So bright an outlook, it says, has not been presented for many a vear for a full wheat crop in Ontario. Winter rye is in fair condition. Of the other grain crops letters said: In the great barley-growing districts there is a decline in the area of barley sown, owing to the fear of the McKinley bill interfering with the price. Some fields, formerly devoted to barley, have been sown to spring wheat, oats and peas. The fruit trees and grape vines came through the winter well and will likely have a large yield. The supplementary reports sent in after the late frost, during the first week in May, show that little harm was done.

The decision of the lower court in the case of G. W. Anderson of Latham, Kan., against Frank & Hellendall, wool merchants of this city, was sustained, which means that the latter must pay the amount sued for. Anderson claimed that Frank & Hellendall bought some wool of him and then refused to accept it, and that he had to dispose of his wool at a lower price than the St. Louis merchants were to pay him for it, and he sued for and obtained judgment for the difference, $1,721.65.

To Purify Your Blood

There's a big difference between choosing your place in the world, and making your place. Any ninny can choose, but few will work hard enough and long enough to get where they want to be. Now, it's different with that dollar skirting that we're going to sell for 35 cents a yard to-morrow, 42 inches wide, 12 tiny tucks in clusters, with open work between, lovely for skirting and infants' dresses, and made of very sheer fine Persian mull. You'll find it in white goods department, You're certain to choose it the minute you see it, and if you get here before the crowd you won't have to work hard to get it.

It wouldn't be treating you right not to tell you about that lovely 32-inch India mull in China silk patterns for 25 cents a yard; black, with life colored sprigs and blossoms, dark and light goods with all over patterns. Nile and prune on cream grounds, black on French gray, all the best shades, as cool and thin as China silk and washes so nicely. Then in novelty ginghams we offer the celebrated Anderson and Whytlaw Scotch zephyrs that sell all over the U.S. for 40 and 45 cents, for only 37 cents.

You see, when you can't be what you want to be, and you don't want to be what you can be, you just collapse. That's the reason the smaller stores all make such dead failures when they try to put their bargains alongside of Barr's. They're offering a silk stocking for $2.85 that Barr's sell for $1.85; all pure silk and a grand hose; the only difference is, Barr's save you a solid dollar. And for 50 cents Barr's sell you an extra quality lisle thread hose, all the pretty bronzes, tans and other new shades, as well as black; plain, boot styles and ribbed, all at 50 cents a pair.

If you don't take this up quickly somebody else will—Step-ladders, 4 ft., 45 cents; 6 ft., 68 cents, the new Japanese brooms, with bamboo sticks, for decoration, 18 cents.

Have you seen the new polks dotted black lace flouncings, the low crown broad brim sailor hats with gold band, the striped Gloria for traveling cloaks, and the new shirt waists at Barr's? You'd better! Specially the waists. There's the London wash silk shirt with bias yoke, the black silks, percale, crepe cloth with soft full front, silks, flannels and percale, and prices begin at $1.35 and stop on the Barr side of every price in town.

Men's white merino shirts and drawers, suitable for spring wear, only 50 cents each. French neck and silk-stitched. One of the best bargains in the house is a beautiful quality solid black challi,40 inches wide, for half-dollar the yard.

The whole business has been badly handled, and it is certain that two of the bidders had but a vague understanding of what was wanted.

Looks suspicious.

Coming as this complication does right on the heels of the brick work contract on the same building, which was let in violation of the charter to the Speaker of the House of Delegates, it makes the situation look rather queer. The brick contract was bid in it will be remembered by Martin J. THE COUNCIL'S OPPORTUNITY.

The situation in the matter of appoint ing a Water Commissioner presents the question of whether it is better for the ajority of the Council to cling to the demination of rejecting all nominations except that of the present incumbent, Mr. HOLMAN, and thus keep him in office, or onfirm the nomination of another capable and honest man, thoroughly qualified by training and experience for the place.

The Council cannot compel the Mayor to minate any particular man and can, therefore, only keep Mr. HOLMAN in his place through an obstructive "combine which is always of uncertain duration and thus tends to demoralize the work of a de ertment. On the other hand, the confirmation power of the Council is merely intended to be a check upon the Mayor, to prevent him from making unfit appointents, and the duty of Councilmen does not go beyond insisting that he nominate capable and honest men. This applies to all departments.

Unfortunately the Council has not adhered to this plain line of duty in several notable instances, and to go beyond it in one or two instances would give strong ground for an accusation that the opposition of the "combine" is factious and malicious, which the Mayor would prob-

HOLMAN. There is no question as to our legal right to pursue and capture the Etata. The only question about the matter is simply whether a proper display of vigilance and vigor in the enforcement of our neutrality laws requires us to pursue and capture her. If we exceed that requirement, we go out of our way to strike an uncalled for blow at one of the parties to Chili's civil war, and thereby depart from an attitude of strict neutrality as far as we would if we should MR. His statement of the affair is that Brown entered the dining-room in an intoxicated condition and insuited a lady who was behind the counter. who bore with them the signs of summer in straw hats and light clothing, than the frosty air of the past few days. The weather-stained farmers, who make up the greater portion of the delegates, make picturesque figures in the throngs on the sidewalks and especially in the hotel lobbies. The calm before the storm is found everywhere this morning as the last words are spoken by the managers who in every affair of this kind have the sagacity to know how to set in motion the effectual mental machinery for the production of desired results. There is no doubt that much brain work of this kind has been done here, and there are those who assert that not only are the different parties represented here trying to manage the others in certain interests of their own but that both the great leading parties of the country are awake to the necessity of making the wrath of all of these malcontents redound to the success of the old parties. Of course no specifications can now be given in support of this theory. It is secret work that would die from publicity. But there are whisperings that the secret work is going on, and it is not hard to discover that among the diverse elements here represented there are numistakable efforts to bridge over chasms in such a way that neither side shall suffer a disadvantage.

It is more and more apparent that the work disadvantage.

It is more and more apparent that the work of the conference is of great magnitude and difficulty; whether this shall appear in the public proceedings or not depends on the skillfulness with which these sagacious manskillfulness with which these sagacious managers perform their preliminary tasks. If the conference succeeds it is likely to attract wide attention from the country, but if it dissolves in hopeless antagonisms over essential principles, and thus proves that there is no rational political affinity between its component parts its place in political history will not be conspicuous.

A feature that has attracted some attention this morning is the apparent apathy of the South. Their delegates are not here in great numbers. Indeed so far as can be ascertained unofficially at this hour, the Southern delegates are very few. This sparsity of representation is not looked upon as wholly accidental, when it is known that such a man as Congressman Livingston of Georgia is here not as a delegate. It is said that he is here not even in active sympathy with the third party movement but simply to study the situation as it shall be presented by the proceedings of this as-subject.

Senator Peffer of Kansas, though represent-

Mr. Powderly, the leader of the labor interests, is likewise not here as a delegate. More and more the outcome of the conference becomes problematical. This morning is occupied with perfecting State organizations, and at 2 p. m. the conference holds its first session in Music Hall.

"Yes," added Mr. Powderly, "a very large number of the delegrates are knights, perhaps. number of the delegates are knights, perhaps as many as two thirds, but they are here not as representing the order, but as coming from political clubs of other bodies of which

SCENE IN MUSIC HALL.

The scene in Music Hall when the delegates were taking their places was decidedly a peculiar, yet attractive one. It resembled nothing so much as a State Fair, which in some way had suddenly collided with a national Republican or Democratic convention, the hall in its great size and general appearance strongly reminding one of the immense structure in St. Louis in which Grover Cleveland received a nomination for the Fresidency. It was like that building on the day of the nomination, filled with an animated throng, full of bustle and hurried conference. Confusing announcements were momentarily being read from the stage and throughout the hall by half a dozen speakers at once addressing their different State delegations, while scores of delegates with their wives, aunts and other feminine relatives made the circuit of the building, viewing the decorations and placards with much interest. and placards with much interest.

Among the most active of the workers in the hall circulating everywhere with resiless industry, button-holing first one man and then another, were delegates whose faces, hands, clothing and badges proclaimed them city bred, the labor unionists.

hands, clothing and badges proclaimed them city bred, the labor unionists.

OHIO'S DECLARATION.

While the main hall was rapidly filling a rousing meeting was in progress on an upper floor from which the stunning waves of applause breaking out every few moments caused many persons to wonder if the walls of the building were safe. It was the State meeting of the delegates from Ohio, nearly 300 strong. First the buckeye men decided that they were in favor of the immediate organization of a third party. Then they put themselves on record as wanting Government loans direct to the people on reasonable security at interest not to exceed 1 per cent per annum. Following this was a climax—the delegation, almost ta a man, declared itself. regardless of what action was taken by the National conference, as bound to have at once an independent State ticket in the field in Ohio. Chairman B. F. Barnes was instructed, while the cheering became absolutely vociferous, to appoint a committee of five before sundown to draw up an address to the people of Ohio calling an independent State convention and fixing a date for it to assemble.

The news that Ohio had declared for an immediate organization of a national third party caused a busy of gossip on the floor of the big conference sail. Last night similar action was taken by the Kanssa, delegates, so that the convention opened with the two greatest delegations in number immistakably arrayed in the flight on the side of throwing.

THE LABOR REFRESENTATIVES.

The widest interest has attached to the widest interest has attached to the presence among the delegates of an unusually large number of prominent labor men, particularly Knights of Labor lenders. It has been rumored that the Knights were in active alliance with the Southern delegates and the property is traced back to a grocery bill incurred in this city in 1856 and 1857. Omaha dilarnee with the Southern delegates and the property is traced back to a grocery bill incurred in this city in 1856 and 1857. Omaha was at third party at this time. General Master Workman Powderly in an interview with press representatives to day just before the convention was called to order who are here are as a body working in any such a way. Many persons suppose that because I am not constantly booming a third party that I am not in favor of it. The truth is that I am for results and that neither myself nor the order, so far as I am aware, care much for how those results, those reforms are attained, so that they really be accomplished. Distinctly I am not opposed to the formation of it at this time, if the delegates here decide that the cause of the people they represent should thereby best be forwarded.

"As a matter of fact," continued Mr. Powderly, "I am not here as a delegate to the convention, but to attend a meeting of the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor, which it was believed well to hold here at this time. What was the purpose of Labor, which it was believed well to hold here at this time, what was the purpose of Labor, which it was believed well to hold here at this time. What was the purpose of the formation of the Knights of Labor, which it was believed well to hold here at this time. What was the purpose of the firm withing the two gatherings in sessio board wished to keep heartily in touch with the people who would be here, and as the board meeting was to be held in any event, there was an earnest desire and obvious ad-vantage in having the two meetings at once in the same place."

INDIANA POLICE LAW.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 19.—Judge McNutt, in the Superior Court yesterday, held the State police bill passed by the last Legislature applying to Terre Haute unconstitutional for two reasons. The first is because of the five-year residence clause on the eligibility of members of the Police Department, which the court holds as a violation of article 23 of the bill of rights which provides that one class of citizens shall article 23 of the bill of rights which provides that one class of citizens shall not enjoy rights to which other citizens are not eligible. The second reason is because of the clause dividing the police force equally between the two parties which the court holds is a violation of the same article of the constitution. The decision is in the nature of an ouster on the State police force, and the old heads of the city police will resume charge unless a stay is granted pending an appeal, which is doubtful. The decision was waited with the greatest interest, and will likely go to the end of the complicated police muddle, which has existed here for several months.

Quite a large number of the admiring friends of the senior Senator arrived in the city yesterday from all parts of the State and it is understood the numerous conferences during the day all had for their object the devising of means to secure the next presidential nomination for Shelby M. ORATORICAL 'DISPLAYS IN THE HOUSE OVER PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 19.—There was a great exhibition of oratory in the House of Representatives to day. The Committee on Appropriations reported adversely on the bill for a reformatory at Fontiac, and Mr. Partridge moved to non-concur in the report and put the bill on the calendar. The roll was called and the motion carried by a vote of ayes, 80; nays, 83, and the bill was ordered to first reading.

Mr. Anthony's bill for the establishment of a hospital for the chronic insane was reported adversely, and it was allowed to lie on the table with the view of substituting it for the Vinton bill for a Northwestern hospital when it shall come up on second reading. The latter bill was then reported favorably, with the minority report against it, and both reports were referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The bill appropriating $4,000 for the State Hortleultural Society and the one appropriating for the removal of the dead at Kaskaska were advanced to a third reading.

Mr. Hambaugh's bee-keepers' bill was killed by a viva voce vote, and when the bill appropriating $400 annually to the Farmers' Institutes in the Congressional Districts of the State was read a motion was made to ORATORICAL 'DISPLAYS IN THE HOUSE OVER

Many citizens of Omaba, Neb., were de-lighted yesterday when 114 suits in the United States Circuit Court in that city were dis-missed by the Judge for a failure of the plain-tiff to prosecute. There were about 500 de-fendats and several thousand persons are interested in the suits which were brought by

This letter is considered the weightiest piece of evidence in this interesting suit. The city authorities, on learning that Shields had entered the land mentioned, objected, saying it was within the city limits and could not be pre-empted. The case was decided against Shields, and a few years later the property was sold for $200 to two residents. Shields appealed to the Secretary of the Interior and his patent to the land was reinvested in him and the parties who bought last were ordered to call for their monay. Shields sold his remaining half interest in the property while Helfenstein, Gore & Co., held the other under attachment on the note for $1,200, and when the property was sold at public auction under this note it fell to them. the land, and Monell at once subdivided and sold portions of it. Hence the complication. The partners of Helfenstein in the grocery business transferred their interest in the claim to Mr. Helfenstein, and his heirs are therefore the only claimants. The late John P. Helfenstein filed his suit against the 500 or more occupants of the property in 1889, with Upton M. Young of St. Louis and George N. Covell of Omaha as attorneys. None of the cases were ever tried, but would have come up at this or the next term of the United States Circuit Court at Omaha. Mr. Helfenstein died last year and it was thought, and is still believed by many that his death ends all litigation and releases all claims to the property.

THE HEIRS WILL SUE.

Attorney Upton M. Young and Mr. John N. Slaughter, one of the heirs, said this morning that such was not the case, but that the heirs would now sue in their own behalf.

"We have been advised that the 114 eject ment suits, against about 500 persons, brought by the late Mr. John P. Helfenstein of St. Louis, in the United States Circuit Court at Omaha, Neb., to recover the undivided half of 160 acres, or about 1,000 lots in the city of Omaha, has been dismissed. The property is valued by the citizens of Omaha at 35,000,000. We are also told that the suits could not be revived under the statute of Nebraska, but the right of the children and heirs at law of deceased to sue for the property cannot be debated. The heirs are now making their arrangements to prosecute their claim in their own names in the United States Circuit Court at Omaha. Since the suits referred to were commenced a number of the defendants have compromised. The great value of this property has been occupied adversely or under any circumstances held in such a way as to make the statute of limitation available as a defense. The following parties are interested in the coming litigation: John P. Helfenstein, Jr., John W. Slaughter, Alice Slaughter, Wim. M.

BOWEN AND MYER.

WHY THE STREATOR CYCLORE SHOULD

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 19.—The preparations for the Bowen Myer fight at the Olympic Club to night are complete. A large attendance is assured, as all the boxes have been sold and two-thirds of the general admission tickets have already been disposed of. The report from the training quarters of the two men is favorable for an evenly matched and finely contested battle. Myer is at weight and consequently is required to keep steadily at work in order that he may be within the limit when he steps into the ring. The Streator boy has little to say about his condition, but his friends and backers are enthusiastic over his form and express themselves as confident that he will win. Their confidence has affected the betting community and turned the scale against Bowen. Very little money has been wagered on the result, but such bets as were made yesterday were at short odds in favor of Myer. As a matter of fact the general public has had little opportunity to get news about Bowen's condition and has had to content itself with such information as has been doled out by the few who have seen him at work at his training quarters, thirty miles from the city. This information is highly favorable. The New Orleans champion keeps carefully in the background. He will not reach the city until this morning and few will have the opportunity to ascertain his condition until he appears in the ring. It is known that he has changed his style of fighting under the tuition of Bob Farrell, and it is claimed that this will result to his advantage. Bowen will be seconded by Farrell and Tom Kelly. Ed Myer and Link Pope will be behind Myer. It is probable that Col. Alex Brewster will referee the fight.

The fight to-night should be won by Myer. In New Orleans the Streator boy is held in rather low estimation because he was defeated by Bowen when they met before, and Jimmy Carroll afterward whipped Bowen without any trouble. While Bowen has won a number of battles, Myer is really the only high class man he ever defeated. It has been claimed that Myer was not well when he met Bowen before, and it is more than likely that the Streator lad was out of condition. In any event the victory of Bowen at that time was a great surprise to people all over the country, and particularly to St. Louis sports, who have always been firmly convinced that, whatever the cause, the best man did not atever the cause, the best man did not . No doubt Bob Farrell of St. Louis, who has been training Bowen, has improved the New Orleans lad greatly, and as Farrell and Tom Kelly of this city will be in his corner to-night he will have the advice of two able men, for a more clever and cumning second than Kelly never stood in a ring. Notwith-standing Bowen's advantage in this particu-lar Myer should nevertheless win. CORBETT AND JACKSON.

lar Myer should nevertheless win.

CORDETT AND JACKSON.

The pool-rooms in San Francisco have commenced selling on the Corbett-Jackson fight, which takes place before the California Club Thursday night. Odds of $100 to $80 are offered on Jackson, and the colored man will probably enter the ring a favorite, and there is no reason why he should not do so. He weighs 195 pounds now, it is said, and Corbett only 180 pounds. This is something more of a difference than it was generally expected there would be between the men. Eastern sports are commencing to arrive in San Francisco in numbers and betting is expected to be very lively from this time on.

The match between Corbett and Jackson was made in December last. In the early part of that month Jackson was on his way to San Francisco from Australia, and Corbett, who was about to sever his connection with the Olympic Athletic Club, was seeking a meeting with Frank P. Slavin. The California Club communicated with Slavin, then in England, offering a purse of $10,000, the same amount as that depending on the coming encounter. Slavin proved rather high priced in the matter of traveling expenses, and Jackson arriving at an opportune moment, consented to fill the brack.

an opportune moment, consented to fill the breach, or in other words to take the place of Slavin. The change was acceptable to Cor-bett, and articles of agreement were drawn up and signed, each man being held respon-sible to the extent of $500 to keep faith with his opponent and the California Club in everything called for by the duly attested contract.

Corbett decided to make a tour of the East, and left for New York by way of New Orleans. He was present at the great middle weight contest in the city last named between Australian Bob Fitzsimmons and Nonparrell Jack Dempsey.

Jackson remained in San Francisco and took life easy until the march of time reminded him that he must seek his training quarters and fit himself for his meeting with the little young pugilist who, in point of cleverness at least is acknowledged to have but few peers among the followers of pugilism.

Galveston, who had never been beaten in the fing before.

THE TURY.

Among racing mena topic often discussed is the amount of ready money that can be won at the track on a properly manipulated "good thing." That is, the amount that can be won without reducing the odds to a non-laying basis. A Saturday at Monmouth is senerally conceded to be the best time and place for a coup of this kind. Such a well-known betting man as Pittsburg Phil, than whom there is no better posted man on this subject in the country, was once heard to say that "$100,000 could be taken out of the ring on a single race by proper management without seriously reducing the odds." This sounds incredible, but the statement is probably not exaggerated. On a Saturday at Monmouth 160 bookmakers are frequently in line, every one of whom would accept $100 on a 10 to 1 chance, while there are many more who would accept $500 and some $1,000 on such a chance. By waiting until the public's money had been placed upon the favorites the market would offer a settled and farm price against the "good thing." Five, better ten, men who are unknown to the bookmaker could be secured to place the money, and in fifteen minutes every bookmaker could be seen. In this country, where the odds are publicly displayed upon slates, bookmakers watch each other's odds very closely, and owing to this fact a $100,000 coup would be a more difficult matter to ne sotiate here than in England.

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, head aches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute. CALIFORNIA FIE SYRUP CO.

NEVER DESPAIR! McNichols Will Treat You Square.

Ah, man, don't hang your head so low, Don't drop your eyes and be cast down, Butlet descrited if reiendably go; There lies a smile beneath the frown. You whith you've strugtled to the end, You see no opening in the dark, But there's one generous man can send Across the gloom a brilliant spark.

Don't be a cyaic, now, but hear
From one who knows that joy's alive,
Can Ii's the burden of the year
And teach you manfully to strive.
What do I know of faiture—I?
Why, pless you. I'm the chiefest sinner.
I've suffered all, yet did not die.
And after all came out the winner.

Look here. True manhood never shirks,
The genius holds out firm and strong.
The genius holds out firm and strong.
The moser cannot last so long.
I've known a hundred just like you.

You labor, but you need not wait;
All blessings come if you deserve them,
No man is stranded quite by fate,
So if you've crosses please reserve them.
The home and happiness you seek,
Rich, rare surroundings, ease and plenty.
Go pay your bills be month or week;
You'll richer be than one in twenty.

AT THE AGE OF 104. The Long Span of Life Granted Peter norce of Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 19.—Peter Do an aged resident of Depere, was buried there yesterday. His life covers the time from before Washington's inauguration up to three days ago, lacking about almonth of being 104 years. He was born at St. Johns, Canada, June 17, 1711, He was twice married and had six children by his first wife, five of whom are living and married. The other with his entire family, was swept away in the memorable Peshtigo fire of 1871. His youngest child is 54 years old. Twenty-four grand-children and thirty three great-grandchildren are his descendants. He retained all his faculties until quite recently. Up to three years ago he had never ridden on a railroad.

"Lady of Lyons." Many thousands of St. Louisans went "unnight and realized that summer was, indeed near at hand because the circus was here. The 'Adam Forepaugh Shows'' were the attractions, and the vast tents at Compton avenu and Manchester road were the rallying poin for an army of people, in which ladies and children predominated. With the Forepaugh name as a guarantee for the best of every hing in the circus line, expectation ran high, and it was realized to the fullest, from the moment when the grand cavalcade paraded the entire circumference of the "covred city" to that when the last feature on

The men and women who don't enjoy a circus have outlived their capacity for any enjoyment, and the child that does not go wild over one is preparing to sprout wings and fly to another world. This applies especially to the Forenaugh shows. tally to the Forepaugh shows.

The bill for yesterday afternoon and even

The bill for yesterday afternoon and evening presented the full strength fof the mammoth company of performers, trained animals and the menagerie. It caught the audiences from the very start, for upon entering the main door a visitor stood right in the midst of the menagerie, and after an interested lingering among the animals passed along under the gigantic main tent, with its majestic sweep of amphitheater, its luxurious private boxes and reserved seats, its three rings circled by the great race-track, over rings circled by the great race-track, ove rings circled by the great labeled apparatus all swinging the flying trapeze apparatus the hoops and bars of the aerial performers the grand entree by the entire com

After the grand entree by the entire com-pany, flanked by the Forepaugh herd of ele-phants, the performance opened with the "Sioux King and Queen," Col. Edgar Daniel Boone and Miss Carlotta, who went through their dancing feats with the fine forest-bred their dancing feats with the fine forest-bred lions in a huge circular fron-fenced court open to view on all sides. Their great German boar-hound "Saxon" participating in the performance added a new feature to a thrilling and novel act. Then the "Wild West Show" followed, presenting the dangers and delights of frontier life, fancy riding by the Deer Brothers, champion shootriding by the Deer Brothers, champion shooting by Capt. A. H. Bogardus and his three sons, an Indian foot-race, the untamed broncho buckers ridden by Mexicans, a Virginia reel on horseback, the "Pony Express," the attack on the Deadwood bags, in fact everything to make the journey complete, would be pleased to have them call the attack on the Deadwood coach, the torture by fire of a captured scout, frontier justice to a horse-thief, the famous "Ghost Dance," and other Western scenes. After that the and other western scenes. After that the three rings were continually filled and a mention of all the good features of the show would be impossible for lack of space. The more prominent, however, were the trained stallions of Adam Forepaugh, Jr., the wonderful bamboo-perch act of the "Japs," Eachmater and Sadakichi; the swinging bamboo performance of Cametichia and the

At 7:45 o'clock this morning Private Watchman Dan Burke discovered a blaze in the two-story frame stable in the rear of 2018 Bell avenue and sent in an alarm from Box 224. The stable contained at the time four horses and a cow belonging to Frank K. Doan, 2016 Bell avenue, and a horse belonging to Joseph Mosley, 2020 Easton avenue. Three of Doan's horses and the cow were gotten out in safety, a horse, valued at $250, being destroyed. Mosley's horse was slightly burned on the left side of the head. The stable, which is owned by Jacob Ratz, a non-resident, was damaged to the extent of $150. An adjoining shed in the rear of the residence at $510 Easton avenue was damaged to the amount of $50.

"we turned into a square, and our carriage was immediately surrounded by a howling mob of several hundred persons. The crowd was composed of workmen who had been endeavoring to hold a May day meeting, which had been dispersed by troops. The street had been recently repaired, and piles of stones were at hand. These were hurled at us by the mob. Taking the child in my arms, I raised an umbrella over us, and we escaped with slight injury. The incident has no sig-nificance, and was a pure accident."
